On 16–19 June 2018 in Barcelona, Spain, the World Ophthalmology Congress (WOC) of the International Council of Ophthalmology will present the ophthalmological event that is the most relevant congressional activity of our specialty.

WOC2018 offers a wide range of scientific and medical activities, covering both general ophthalmology and all its subspecialties. By attending WOC2018, you can learn the latest updates from leaders in our field, compare experiences with peers, and meet other professionals in our specialty.

As President of the Spanish Society of Ophthalmology, I encourage ophthalmologists worldwide to come to this event and enjoy the exceptional setting of Barcelona.

Welcome to WOC2018!

Jose Luis Encinas Martin, MD, PhD
President, Spanish Society of Ophthalmology
